A stylized illustration of a man in a white shirt and dark vest, holding a large, dark, rectangular object. The background is a light blue gradient with faint, cursive text from the Declaration of Independence. The man is shown from the chest up, looking towards the right. He is holding a large, dark, rectangular object, possibly a book or a scroll, which is partially obscured by a large, dark, rectangular shape. The background features faint, cursive text from the Declaration of Independence, including phrases like "human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another", "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.", and "That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, -- That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness." The text is written in a cursive script, typical of the original document.

DEDICATION

This yearbook is dedicated to those brave people who brought about the birth of our nation. To those colonists who acted together and met to oppose the British demands. To those who began the long struggle from the first shots fired at Lexington to the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. To all of those banded together by common ideals who brought about much more than mere independence. To those who established our nation as a place where every human being could be free, and have something to say about how he was governed. These ideals of liberty grow brighter each day... we are grateful.

THE FLAG . . .

Every country has its own flag. Our flag did not always look the way it does today. In the early days the colonists lived in thirteen separate colonies, each with its own flag.

The first days of the Revolutionary War, the colonists carried their old flags into battle. They needed one flag to stand for all the colonies fighting together. The American flag was to have a star and a stripe for each of the thirteen colonies.

The Betsy Ross Flag with the stars arranged in a circle was based on the idea that no colony should take precedence. This flag evolved into our present day flag.

All other flags soon disappeared after the Stars and Stripes was adopted, yet the insignia shown on some of them appears occasionally on a state flag.

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic, a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

Be Americans. Let there be no sectionalism, no North, South, East or West: You are all dependent one on another and should be one in union. In one word, be a nation: be Americans, and be true to yourselves.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. — We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. — That whenever any form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all reference hath hitherto been to the amendment rather than to the abolition of former Governments. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Tyranny, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former System of Government. — The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. — To prove this, let facts be presented to a candid world. — He has refused his assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. — He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, until his assent should be obtained; and when so assented to, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. — He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large tracts of Land, until those people would assent to the Representation in the Legislature, a right inoperative, when so provided for, to secure only. — He has called together legislative Bodies at times unusual, and dissolved them on the day of their assembly; and he has refused to dissolve them, until they should assent to his measures. — He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly spirit his invasions on the rights of the people. — He has refused for a long time after each dissolution, to cause others to be elected, whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the Right of the People, for their exercise; the State ever in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of Invasion from without, and surrounded within. — He has endeavored to prevent the Population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Aliens, refusing to encourage their immigration hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Land. — He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers. — He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their Offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries. — He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our People, and eat out their substance. — He has held us wrong as in terms of Peace, standing on our guard against invasion, without the consent of our Legislature. — He has endeavored to make the Military independent of and superior to the civil Power. — He has combined with us to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution, and unacknowledged by our Laws; giving us assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation. — For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us. — For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States. — For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world. — For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent. — For depriving us in many cases of the benefit of Trial by Jury. — For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended Offences. — For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighboring Province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to make it at once an empire, and put us under the same oppressive and unacknowledged rule as the Colonies. — For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments. — For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves superior to the Legislature for us in all cases whatsoever. — He has obstructed Government here, by refusing us out of the Protection and support of the Colonies. — He has plundered our Seas, swarmed our Ports, and destroyed the lives of our Ships. — He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of cruelty, perfidy and brutalty, towards the Inhabitants of these Colonies, and Britain, to justify themselves by these Acts. — He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the Inhabitants of these Colonies the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. — In every stage of these Oppressions we have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered by repeated injury. — A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free People. — Nor have We been wanting in attention to our British Brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their Legislatures to extend an unwarlike jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have begged them, by the ties of our common kindred to disavow those usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of equity. — We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

It is therefore the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our Cause, do in the Name and by the authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do. — And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

"A thoughtful mind when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag, but the nation itself. And whatever may be its symbols, its insignia, he reads chiefly in the flag, the government, the principles, the truths, the history that belongs to the nation that sets it forth. The American flag has been a symbol of Liberty and men rejoiced in it."
